Applied Statistics · Module 4 · PAGE 1 — OVERVIEW

Simple linear regression models the relationship between a predictor X and an outcome Y. The equation is Y_hat = beta_0 + beta_1 * X. The intercept beta_0 is the predicted Y when X is zero; the slope beta_1 is the expected change in Y for a one-unit increase in X. A prediction is an estimate, not a guarantee.